About the symposium

The European CubeSat Symposium is organized every two years. The next CubeSat Symposium will take place in Leuven, Belgium from December 11th to 13th, 2023.

The symposium is co-organized by KU Leuven and the von Karman Institute for Fluid Dynamics .

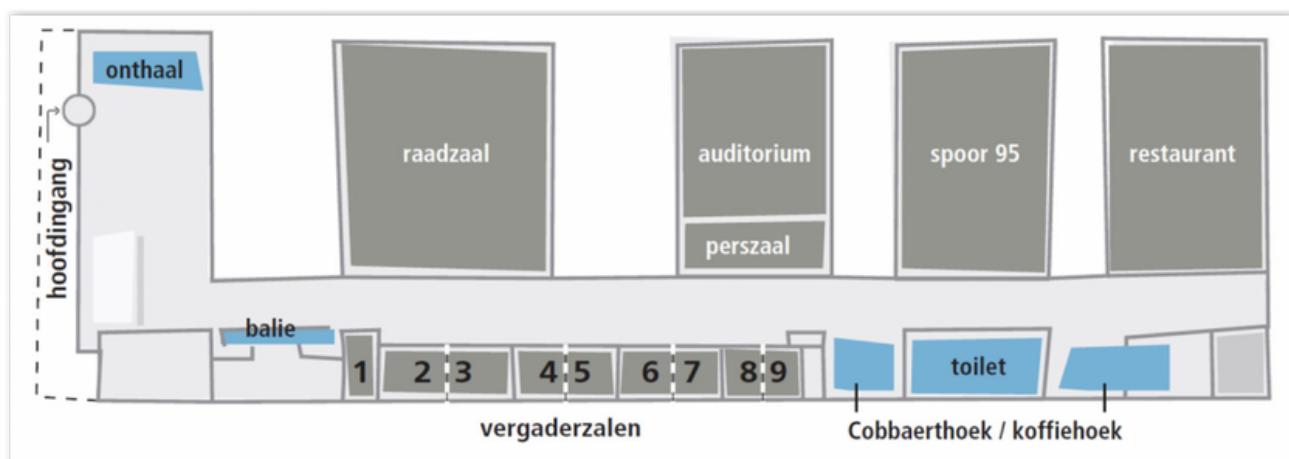

The Symposium will provide a snapshot of the most relevant topics in the CubeSat world, from technology demonstrators and scientific missions to the future technologies and the space exploration with CubeSats.

This symposium gathers 100 to 150 leading experts, industry professionals, and students passionate about CubeSat technology.
